Літургія Слова (літургія оглашених)

Антифони в літургії

Царство Боже є сповненням усіх пророцтв та обітниць Старого Завіту. Щоб нині повніше зрозуміти й прийняти царство, ми пригадуємо ті пророцтва й обітници, співаючи вірші псалмів, де про них сказано, упереміж із приспіваними, у яких висловлено сповнення цих обітниць у Христі. Величним гимном «Єдинородний Сину» сповідуємо, що сповненням усіх Божих обітниць є Христове вочленення й Пасхальне таїнство. Співаючи приспіваними «Молитвами Богородиці» та «Молитвами святих», єднаємося з тими, у яких це спасіння здійснилося. Такий спів псалмів із приспіваними називається «антифонами», бо його виконують по черзі два крилоси. У Божественній Літургії є три антифони, останній з яких завершується Малим входом. У молитвах антифонів сповідуємо «невимовне чоловіколюбство» Христове і Його обітницю «вволити прохання двох або трьох, що згодяться в ім'я» Його.

Малий вхід, тропарі, Трисвяте

Якщо співом антифонів ми переживаємо очікування царства й «наближення» до нього, то Малий вхід показує, що, йдучи за Христом, ми вже входимо в царство, в небо, в повноту Божого життя і молимося: «Вчини із входом нашим, щоб був входом святих ангелів, які співслужать з нами і разом з нами славословлять твою доброту». Словами «Премудрість, прості!» диякон закликає нас скерувати увагу до Слова Божого, а вірні відповідають поклонінням Його Мудрості, явленій у книзі Євангелія. Вони готують свої серця до прийняття Слова. Саме тому вірні, творячи малий поклон, співають: «Прийдіте, поклонімося і припадім до Христа».

Священик з Євангелієм входить у святиню на знак того, що Божественну Літургію звершує єдиний Первосвященик – Ісус Христос, Який невидимо присутній серед нас і провадить нас до престолу. Єпископ або священик представляють Вічного архиєрея, Який приніс досконалу жертву раз назавжди, вознісся на небо й, увійшовши у небесне святиню, сидить праворуч отця.

The Liturgy of the Word (Liturgy of the Catechumens)

The Antiphons of the Liturgy

The kingdom of God is the fulfilment of all the prophecies and promises of the Old Testament. In order to understand more fully and to accept more intensely the kingdom, we recall these prophecies and promises. We sing psalm verses that express them and a refrain that conveys their fulfilment in Christ. In the solemn hymn, “Only-begotten Son,” we profess that the fulfilment of all that God promised is to be found in the Incarnation and Paschal Mystery of Christ. By singing the refrains “Through the prayers of the Mother of God...” and “Through the prayers of your saints...” we unite ourselves to those in whom this salvation has already been accomplished. This type of singing of the psalms with a refrain is called antiphonal because two alternating choirs (krylosy or scholae) sing them. In the Divine Liturgy there are three antiphons ending with the Little Entrance. In the prayers between the antiphons we profess God’s “love for mankind which is beyond expression” and Christ’s promise to “grant the request of two or three who join their voices in [his] name.”

The Little Entrance, Troparia, and the Thrice-Holy Hymn

While in the singing of the antiphons we experience anticipation of the kingdom and our drawing near to it, the Little Entrance shows that by following Christ we already enter the kingdom; we enter heaven, the fullness of God’s life. Thus, we pray: “Grant that as we make our entrance, the holy angels may enter too, serving with us and joining in the praise of Your goodness.” By the words “Wisdom! Stand aright!” the deacon calls us to direct our attention to the Word of God. The faithful respond by venerating his Wisdom, which is manifested in the Gospel Book. They prepare their hearts to receive the Word during its proclamation. Thus, bowing their heads, the faithful sing: “Come, let us worship and fall down before Christ.”

The priest enters the sanctuary with the Gospel Book. This is a sign that it is Jesus Christ, the only High Priest, who celebrates the Divine Liturgy. Christ is invisibly among us, and it is he who leads us to the altar (just as the Gospel Book carried by the deacon precedes everyone). The bishop or priest represents the eternal High Priest who offered the perfect sacrifice once and for all, ascended to heaven, and, having entered the heavenly sanctuary, sits at the right hand of the Father.
